

NOTES

Sunday, December 7th, 2025

1. When you picture sitting across from God with nothing left to offer but your sin, what emotions or thoughts rise up in you — and what does it mean to believe that His response is mercy and love (1 Peter 1:18-19)?
2. In what ways have you tried to “negotiate” with God through effort, performance, or appearance, and how can you surrender those attempts to rest in the finished work of Jesus’ blood?
3. How does the reality of substitution — that Christ willingly took your place — shape your understanding of God’s justice, love, and worth in your everyday life?
4. Revelation 12:11 says believers overcome “by the blood of the Lamb and by the word of their testimony.” What is your testimony of what His blood has changed or redeemed in you?
5. What would it look like this week to live in gratitude and confidence, knowing that the most valuable currency in all creation — the blood of Jesus — has already been spent on your behalf?
