1. Why do you think the idea that “all religions lead to God” is so appealing in today’s culture, and how does Jesus’ statement in John 14:6 challenge that mindset?
2. When you look at the major world religions, what stands out to you about how different they are in their understanding of who Jesus is and how salvation works?
3. How does the distinct Christian message of grace — that we are saved by what Christ has done, not by what we do — shape the way you think about faith and following Jesus?
4. What does it look like to hold firmly to the truth of the gospel while still showing love and compassion to people of other beliefs?
5. How can you live and speak this week in a way that reflects Jesus as “the way, the truth, and the life” to people who believe all paths are equal?
